

ENVIRONMENTAL TECHNICIAN / LABORER

Reports to:

Site Supervisor

Position Summary:

Our Denville, New Jersey office is seeking a motivated/self-starting individual who possesses a professional image and strong work ethic to support a growing and fast-paced office environment.

The candidate will assist in engineering, environmental and construction functions for our wide range of projects. The position will include performing the following responsibilities and duties as assigned:

Engineering:

- Assist in obtaining accurate field measurements and dimensions
- Assist with engineering plans, construction details and contract documents

Environmental:

- Assist with of monitoring well installations and performance of soil borings
- Environmental field sampling services of air, soils and groundwater
- Environmental Remediation of Impacted Soils and Groundwater
- Transportation and disposal of hazardous and non-hazardous materials
- Assist with Reports, Studies and plans

Construction:

- Removal and installation of underground and aboveground storage tank systems
- Piping, plumbing, heating, ventilation and air conditioning (HVAC) activities
- Excavation activities, underground utility improvements and demolition activities
- Septic system installations and landscaping activities
- Site work including concrete and pavement restoration activities

Requirements:

- A current and valid New Jersey CDL driver's license
- Occupational Safety Health Administration (OSHA) Certification is a plus
- Special consideration for candidates with New Jersey Underground Storage Tank Closure and Subsurface Certification License*
- Ability and desire to work with team members in a positive manner on multiple project assignments

*Experience accumulated is considered for New Jersey Underground Storage Tank certification.

To Apply:

Please submit your resume via:

- Email: hr@entechgroupinc.com or
- Fax: 973.586.8663